Living in the Caribbean is a luxury and affordable also. Take a good look at the Dominican Republic. One of the few Caribbean islands that has direct flights with the rest of the world and a Latin American culture, what means friendly people and good atmosphere.

Villa with infinity pool in for example the Lomas de Coson in Las Terrenas.

Prices for real estate, properties, land, villas, apartments and condos are still affordable, when you're looking something for a good price. When you're looking for luxury real estate or villas, also possibilities enough. There are communities like Cap Cana, Punta Cana, Roco Ki and Punta Perla that give all the exclusivity and luxury your looking for. Cap Cana for example at this moment is creating the biggest Caribbean marine any time. Very exclusive apartments, villas and condos around this beautiful made marina are for sale.
